

The Political Puzzle

by John Barclay

ACROSS

1. Rate son high in Washington society. (7)
6. To get home pull stockings around you. (5)
9. Antagonist in Yemen. (5)
10. In time when spirits flag, ingenuity may help. (5)
11. Rights women's libbers want. (5)
12. Dance done how we like it. (4-3)
13. Something that happened in middle of 1970. (5)
16. Play written by pal of mine. (1, 4)
18. Take a meal from a petal. (5)
21. To freshen up put name in the elevated. (6)
22. He is best read with icy beer. (6)
24. In this matter, stay away more than on others. (1, 2-2)

25. Nip ICC frolic in the bud. (6)
26. How to decline in code. (2, 4)
27. Use a lyre at dawn mass. (5)
30. When you can alter time. (5)
33. Campaign approach using reams of paper. (5)
36. GE is happy to step into 27 Across. (7)
37. Wait for 50-unit group before proceeding. (5)
38. Lady of the manor. (5)
39. Where an ear for crowd noise is important. (5)
40. For short gentleman, eye shadow adds polish. (5)
41. Hamlet might see metro ad; there's the rub. (2,5)

DOWN

1. Department with taste. (5)

2. Like a vine untrained. (5)
3. Comes after up and before end. (5)
4. Leaper's second thought about law. (6)
5. Atlantic City roster. (6)
6. Has he any redeeming qualities? Sense of humor? (5)
7. Commonly spelled with s, l, a, and w? (5)
8. Place to see pill at work in D. C. (7)
14. Leonardo met his end in 106 A. D. (5)
15. One mine gets the nod. (7)
17. Unlikely result of more Fed. action. (7)
18. The position of Peyton. (5)
19. Our short mother commands love in Paris. (5)
20. By one measure, things look black indeed. (5)
23. Refreshment in Mexico coal mine. (5)
25. To query Indian sounds like dirty business. (7)
28. You raged when I disagreed. (6)
29. Special rope for a trail task. (6)
31. Baroness or Moby Dick, for example. (5)
32. Go from one layer to another. (5)
33. Why dons are going to church meeting. (5)
34. Eastern part of lake is strange indeed. (5)
35. To prepare for battle, mister comes up and takes ear in. (5)

The numbers indicate the number of letters and words, e.g., (2, 3) means a two-letter word followed by a three-letter word. Groups of letters, e.g., USA, are treated as one word. Answers to last month's puzzle are on page 42.

Nine Muses. One Magazine.

The editors of Saturday Review proudly announce a magazine devoted to The Arts.

The ancient Greeks devoted nine Muses to the arts as they saw them.

Well it's time there was a magazine devoted solely to the Arts as they exist in the modern world.

Across the country there is more interest in the creative powers of our culture than ever before. It isn't just a passive interest; people are discovering that in every one of us there lives an artist, a creator of some sort, and that "art" is no longer the special preserve of a few experts. New art forms, new art centers, and new concepts of what art should be are developing in joyful profusion.

Saturday Review-The Arts is designed to help you keep up with all these exciting developments.

It features eight regular departments: Cinema; Theater and Dance; Art; Music; Architecture and Design; Entertainments; Writing; and People and Ideas.

These departments report on coming events, spot trends, revisit forgotten masters, and put you in touch with the personalities behind art news.

But Saturday Review-The Arts does not confine itself to the traditional cultural categories.

The magazine will set no artificial limits on its scope.

It looks at all the Arts. Photography. Design. Sculpture. Architecture. Literature. Music. Film. Communications. Opera. Theater. Poetry. Dance. Criticism. Painting.

You'll get guides to European and American music festivals, thorough reviews of the latest recordings, reports on jazz, pop and rock, and Broadway musicals. Sir Rudolf Bing recalls his twenty-two years as impresario of the Metropolitan Opera, and novelist Terry Southern covers the Rolling Stones' American tour.

—You'll read a debate between two great men of letters, Francis Steegmuller and Alberto Moravia, that continues a modern controversy over a novel written more than a hundred years ago.

—You'll read John Hightower, former director of the Museum of Modern Art, on how tax dollars may revolutionize museums, changing them from private clubs for connoisseurs to vital public institutions. You'll see Claude Picasso's essay on the private collections of America's best-known modern artists.

—You'll discover a surprising new direction in children's fiction, what the world's most famous behaviorist believes about poetry, how an Italian psychiatrist and an American neurologist view the creative process.

—What does Glenda Jackson plan to do next? What films are Melvin Van Peebles and the man who made The Go-Between already shooting? If you can't resist the urge to make your own movie, what is the first step to take?

—Russian poetry and fiction, a careful evaluation of choreographer

George Balanchine, the aspirations of women film-makers, the new look of mainland Chinese crafts, the events at Iran's big cultural festival—these are all subjects covered in The Arts.

In addition, The Arts carries features, puzzles, reviews, contests and editorials of the kind that have made Saturday Review the brain-prodder it has always been.

We invite you to become a Subscriber to Saturday Review

The Arts at the half-price charter introductory rate of $6.00 for one year (regularly $12).

Saturday Review

Box 2043, Rock Island, Ill. 61207

Dear Saturday Review,

Enter my introductory subscription to Saturday Review-The Arts at the Half-Price Charter Subscription rate of $6.00 for one year (regularly $12—12 issues) with a guarantee that I enjoy it or you'll give me a full refund.

Payment Enclosed Bill me (offer good only in U.S. and Canada.)

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____

AMB2M022 Zip _____

If you are currently a subscriber to Saturday Review, The Arts is already included in your subscription as part of SR's new total information program covering Education, Science, The Society, as well as The Arts.

DEMOCRACY IN ACTION:

One Who Won

by Daniel Epstein

He is Lincoln, he is Patton, he is Donald Duck. He is these and more. He is William Lloyd Scott, for six years Republican representative of some 594,407 souls in Virginia's Eighth Congressional District and now Virginia's first Republican senator in a century. The first comparison is tenable and is, in fact, said to be made by Scott himself. He is shorter and squatter than the great emancipator, but facially there is enough for a competent make-up artist to work with, enough to approximate the features, if not the stature, of that earlier statesman. He is the son of a railroad worker who died in a train wreck when young Bill was only nine.

This article is adapted from the profile Daniel Epstein wrote for Ralph Nader's Congress Project.

